New General Manager Takes Pike County Light & Power by Storm

Westfall Township, PA – Pike County Light & Power (PCLP) announced today that Steven Grandinali has been appointed to the position of General Manager.

Grandinali, a former executive with Orange & Rockland Utilities, has held numerous positions throughout his 28-year career.

He was most recently Section Manager for New Business Services responsible for upgrades and new service projects. In this role, Grandinali worked with government and private sector entities to oversee utility installations for residential, commercial, retail, and industrial customers. Previously, he managed the utility's Distribution Control Center and Northern Area Electric Operations. Russ Miller, Vice President of Business Development for PCLP said, "Mr. Grandinali's career experience and familiarity with Pike County will be an asset to our family of companies going forward."

Grandinali will help ensure a smooth transition of ownership between Orange & Rockland and Corning Natural Gas Holding Corporation. He will maintain and improve systems, work with residential and business customers, interface with the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, as well as manage the operations of the electric and gas system in PCLP's territory. Currently that territory includes: Milford and Matamoras Borough and Township; Westfall, Mill Rift, and northeast Dingman Townships. Grandinali stated, "I'm ready to hit the ground running. This role poses new challenges that will allow me to draw on my extensive experience within a public utility."

Grandinali holds a Bachelor of Engineering from Stevens Institute of Technology and an MBA in Organizational Behavior from the Hagan School of Business at Iona College. He has also completed a number of professional development programs, including the Management Development Program at the Con Edison Business Academy and Orange County's Leadership Orange.

A resident of Warwick, NY, Grandinali and his wife, Pamela, have one son.
